

What makes the Aqua Detox™ system different?

The technology of the Aqua Detox™ system was based on the original research carried out by Dr. Royal Rife in the 1930's. He studied the effect of passing a low voltage electrical current through the water and its association with the body. Dr. Rife discovered that this would stimulate the meridians of the body.

Aqua Detox™ obtained the European Class 11a Medical Approval, proving to the European Medical Authorities the efficacy of our claims. The Aqua Detox™ system does detoxify all the organs of the body and it is safe to use.

How does the body release toxins from the feet?

The average foot contains over 2000 pores, which are the largest and densest on the body. That's more than any other part of the body of comparable size. The fascia is the thin membranous layer located on the bottom of the foot, where toxins are stored.

Why do I need to detoxify my body?

We are all exposed to toxins everyday, in the water, food and the air we breathe. Over-the-counter drugs become a part of the toxic load as well. It is stated by experts who have examined metal toxicity that forty percent of us have heavy metal toxins in our bodies.

How will I feel after a treatment?

Most feel lighter, have more energy and experience a greater sense of well-being. Aqua Detox™ has had reports of immediate relief from clients with pain, headaches and swollen joints. Clients with fibromyalgia, arthritis, allergies, neuralgia and other illnesses have experienced benefits with multiple treatments.

How often can I have a treatment?

The body will continue to release toxins up to 48 hours after the initial treatment. You will need to wait the full 48 hours before having the next treatment.

Why does the water change colours?

The interaction of toxins being released from the body in combination with the chemicals in the water and the metal from the array when creating an ionic field in the foot spa.

What does the colours in the water mean?

There is insufficient scientific research to make an accurate analysis of what the colours signify. Some practitioners link the colours to areas of the body based on their experience.

What happens if I run the system without feet in the water?

The water will change colour regardless, whether there are feet in the water or not, due to the reaction of the metal in the array with the impurities and chemicals in the water. There will be two to three times the amount of cellular debris when the treatment is done with a client.

What is the recommended protocol for use?

To receive the maximum benefit of the Aqua Detox™ system, an initial six treatments are recommended during a four to six week period with a monthly maintenance treatment. Some individuals have chosen to continue the treatments on a more frequent basis and found that to eliminate metal toxicity they needed to have two treatments a week for a longer period of time, in some cases up to six months.

Why do we have to add salt to the water?

The electrolysis process requires that an ionized solution complete an electric circuit between two electrodes. The salt creates conductivity, which allows the array to work.

What are the bubbles coming from the array?

The bubbles from the array are the separation of the oxygen and hydrogen in the water and the division of the between positive and negative.

How does the array work?

The Aqua Detox™ apparatus generates a continuous current, which is delivered through two coiled electrodes built into a housing unit called an "array". The spiral form is used in order to maximize the surface of the conductive surfaces. The passage of the electric current across the water produces ionization. Positively charged ions in the conductive electrolytic solution will move toward the cathode and the negatively charged ions towards the anode. This flow of electrons is from a negative pole, the cathode, towards the positive pole, the anode.

Have you proof of what it cures?

The machine does not cure anything. It simply enables your body to re-balance and gain energy which stimulates self-detoxification.

Can I get electrocuted from the array in the water?

The array in the water only carries 2.5 amps so it is safe for everybody.

What if I have Athletes Foot or Verrucas?

The Aqua Detox™ machine is cleaned thoroughly after each individual detox. The array is also disinfected in cleaning fluid so there is no chance of cross infection while using the machine as long as it is cleaned properly.
